Name: Metal Militia
By: Lukas Palassis

Description: This project will be a catalog for people who want to discover new subgenres of Rock and Metal. It will showcase the most populars songs in that genre and give a definition of what makes this genre unique. Users will be linked to the songs on a popular streaming platform or, if html allows, play the songs in the background while using the site. Users will be able to interact with songs by reviewing them so that others can see if it is worth their time to explore further. This project's goal will be to grow a community of like minded individuals and shed light on less known artists. Users will have access to recommend other genres and songs that they believe should be added to the site. However, others will have to approve the request to make sure it meets the community guidelines and belongs. Users will be able to view news about Rock and Metal, especially big concerts that are upcoming.

Data Storage: We will be storing information pertaining to genres such as most popular bands, most popular songs, influential artists, and period most popular. We will be storing information about specific bands including member names and instruments played, period active, most popular album, important events (concerts, deaths, etc.), and what genre they fall into. Only administrators will be able to officially approve song and genre additions, so they will need a specific log in. Furthermore, each user will have to create a username and password to access their account to prevent cyber security attacks and to track what they are listening to. We will not need to store extraneous information like birthdays or any other personal information because it is not needed for this site.
